5.0 COMPENSATION POLICY

It is the policy of KRCC Inc to maintain a salary administration program. The salary administration program helps us have consistent pay practices, comply with federal and state laws, support our commitment to Equal Employment Opportunity, and offer competitive salaries within our labor market.

Compensation for each job is based on several factors. The factors include the essential duties and responsibilities of the job, and salary survey data (how other employers pay their staff).

KRCC may give annual pay adjustments to staff effective July 1st. KRCC may give pay adjustments in extraordinary circumstances as recommended by the Supervisor, Director, Personnel Management and approved by the Executive Director. Pay adjustments and the amount are contingent on a number of factors including the overall financial condition of the agency.

1. The development of a compensation classification schedule will be the responsibility of Personnel Management. Review and revision will be conducted on at least an annual basis. The Executive Director will approve the compensation class schedule and recommend to the Board of Directors for approval.
2. Staff will be hired at the minimum of their classification level. In the event a prospective staff offers qualifications beyond the minimum requirements of the position, Personnel Management may request the Executive Director to approve a salary in an amount above the minimum.
3. An staff who is promoted to a higher job classification may be considered for a promotional increase in an amount up to 10% or be raised to a salary with the minimum of the new range, whichever is the greater.
4. An staff who has reached the high of their compensation class will not receive an annual pay adjustment. Such an staff will be eligible to receive annually a bonus in an amount equal to one-half of the pay adjustment for which they would otherwise be eligible.

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

5. An staff who is demoted to a lower compensation level will have their salary decreased in the amount necessary to reflect a salary at the same relative position in the lower range as the position in the higher range.

If you have a question about compensation, talk with your supervisor. If you have a question about KRCC's salary administration, contact Personnel Management.

8.3 FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE AND NATIONAL DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION POLICY

All staff who have been employed at least one year and have worked at least one-thousand-two-hundred-fifty (1,250) hours within the previous twelve-month period are eligible for family and medical leave, service member family leave and qualifying exigency leave.

Basic Leave Entitlement

FMLA requires covered employers to provide up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible staff for the following reasons:

- The birth of a child or placement of a child for adoption or foster care;
- To bond with a child (leave must be taken within 1 year of the child's birth or placement);
- To care for the staff's spouse, child, or parent who has a qualifying serious health condition;
- For the staff's own qualifying serious health condition that makes the staff unable to perform the staff's job;
- For qualifying exigencies related to the foreign deployment of a military member who is the staff's spouse, child, or parent.

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

Military Family Leave Entitlements

Eligible staff whose spouse, child, parent, or next of kin is on covered active duty or call to covered active duty status may use their 12-week leave entitlement to address certain qualifying exigencies. Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, and attending post-deployment reintegration briefings.

FMLA also includes a special leave entitlement that permits eligible staff to take up to 26 weeks of leave to care for a covered service member during a single 12-month period. A covered service member is:

(1) a current member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is otherwise on the temporary disability retired list, for a serious injury or illness*; or

(2) a veteran who was discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable at any time during the five-year period prior to the first date the eligible staff takes FMLA leave to care for the covered veteran, and who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy for a serious injury or illness.*

The FMLA definitions of “serious injury or illness” for current service members and veterans are distinct from the FMLA definition of “serious health condition”.

Definition of Serious Health Condition

A serious health condition is an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility, or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the staff from performing the functions of the staff’s job, or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities.

Subject to certain conditions, the continuing treatment requirement may be met by a period of incapacity of more than 3 consecutive calendar days combined with at least two visits to a health care provider or one visit and a regimen of continuing treatment, or incapacity due to pregnancy, or incapacity due to a chronic condition. Other conditions may meet the definition of continuing treatment.

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

Benefits and Protections

During FMLA leave, the employer will maintain the staff's health coverage under any "group health plan" on the same terms as if the staff had continued to work. Upon return from FMLA leave, most staff will be restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.

Use of FMLA leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an staff's leave.

KRCC will not interfere with an individual's FMLA rights or retaliate against someone for using or trying to use FMLA leave, opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA, or being involved in any proceeding under or related to the FMLA.

Use of Leave

An staff does not need to use this leave entitlement in one block. Leave can be taken intermittently or on a reduced leave schedule when medically necessary. Staff must make reasonable efforts to schedule leave for planned medical treatment so as not to unduly disrupt KRCC's operations. Leave due to qualifying exigencies may also be taken on an intermittent basis.

Substitution of Paid Leave for Unpaid Leave

Use of accrued Paid Time Off while taking FMLA leave is required. The policies and procedures for paid time off and unpaid leave will apply.

Staff Responsibilities

Staff must complete the "Request for FMLA" form. Requests must be submitted to Personnel Management. Generally, staff must provide 30 days advance notice of the need to take FMLA leave when the need is foreseeable. When 30 days' notice is not possible, the staff must provide notice as soon as practicable and generally must comply with an employer's normal call-in procedures.

Staff do not have to share their medical diagnosis but must provide sufficient information for Personnel Management to determine if the leave may qualify for FMLA protection and the anticipated timing and duration of the leave. Sufficient information may include that the staff is unable to perform job functions; the family member is unable to perform daily activities, the need for hospitalization or continuing treatment by a health care provider, or circumstances supporting the need for military family leave. Staff must inform Personnel Management if the requested leave is for a reason for which FMLA leave was previously taken or certified. Staff also may be required to provide a certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave.

Employer Responsibilities

Personnel Management will inform staff requesting leave whether they are eligible under FMLA. If they are, the notice must specify any additional information required as well as the staff's rights and responsibilities. If they are not eligible, Personnel Management must provide a reason for the ineligibility. Personnel Management will inform staff if leave will be designated as FMLA-protected and the amount of leave counted against the staff's leave entitlement. If Personnel Management determines that the leave is not FMLA-protected, they will notify the staff.

Pregnancy/Maternity

Leaves of absence for pregnancy/maternity are treated as Paid Time Off and all Paid Time Off policies and procedures apply. Accumulated Paid Time Off may be used for absences due to pregnancy and childbirth regardless of length of service with the center. Once accumulated Paid Time Off is exhausted, leave without pay will be used.

When requesting leave and planning the date to return to work following maternity leave, staff must inform their supervisor, in writing, of their intent to return and the expected date of return. The staff, no later than the first day at work following leave, must submit a statement from the physician stating medical approval for return to work. Upon returning to work, staff will resume their position or an equivalent position.

Enforcement

Staff may file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division, or may bring a private lawsuit against KRCC.

The FMLA does not affect any federal or state law prohibiting discrimination or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement that provides greater family or medical leave rights.

A copy of the Department of Labor's Staff Rights under the Family Medical Leave Act is supplied in the staff handbook provided to each staff upon hire. In addition, current rights and any subsequent updates are posted at worksite in areas visible to all staff.

9.0 DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

It is the philosophy of Kentucky River Community Care, Inc., that the personnel are given rules to follow regarding conduct as guidelines, and that each individual will behave in a manner expected in a professional environment. However, if people do not work within the guidelines, action must be taken to correct the situation and protect all people involved. Certain situations and events occurring in the employment relationship require the administration of discipline. The following forms of discipline may be used when appropriate: verbal reprimand; written reprimand; suspension; and discharge from employment. The above listed disciplinary measures are set forth as illustrations of the measures that may be used by the company. The listing, however, is not exhaustive and does not obligate KRCC to administer discipline on a progressive basis. KRCC has the right to use any disciplinary measure that, in its view, is appropriate in the light of the conduct involved and the use of any such measure does not affect the at-will employment relationship.

Although violation of any of the following rules may result in immediate discharge, when appropriate KRCC will employ a progressive discipline procedure as follows: First Offense - verbal warning; Second Offense - written warning; and Third Offense - may result in immediate discharge. Other inappropriate actions besides those listed below may result in disciplinary action. Likewise, this listing does not affect either party's right to terminate the employment relations at any time and for any or no reason.

1. Failing to perform job duties in a timely and accurate manner, as prescribed by supervisor.
2. Uncivil attitude, or other inappropriate work behavior, as determined by the supervisor.

- Individuals are reminded not to touch, feed, or pet a service or working animal when the animal is working as it distracts the animal from the task at hand.
- Under no circumstances should a service animal, working animal or emotional support animal be allowed to run loose. Animals must be under the control of their handler and may not be tethered to buildings, handrails, trees, bicycle racks, or other objects.

Revised 5/2014

14.5 TUBERCULOSIS CONTROL POLICY

Kentucky River Community Care, Inc. recognizes that infection control must be a priority. The Center for Disease Control and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has established guidelines for prevention and treatment of Tuberculosis.

The main purpose of this plan is to prevent the transmission of infection and provide treatment and counseling should infection occur.

In compliance with these guidelines our Center has developed a Tuberculosis Control Policy which consists of the following:

- A. Cause and Transmission of Tuberculosis:

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

Tuberculosis (TB) is a disease that is spread from person to person through the air. TB usually affects the lungs, but it can also affect other parts of the body, such as the brain, the kidneys, or the spine. TB germs are put into the air when a person with TB disease of the lungs or throat coughs or sneezes. When a person inhales air that contains TB germs, they may become infected. People with TB infection do not feel sick and do not have any symptoms. However, they may develop TB disease at some time in the future. It is important to understand that TB Infection and TB Disease is not the same thing. The general symptoms of TB disease include- feeling sick or weak, weight loss, fever, and night sweats. The symptoms of TB of the lungs include coughing, chest pain, and coughing up blood.

In general, persons who have or are suspected of having pulmonary or laryngeal TB should be considered infectious

- if they are coughing
- if they are undergoing cough-inducing procedures,
- if they are not receiving therapy,
- if they have just started therapy, or
- if they have a poor clinical or bacteriological response to therapy.

Patients are not considered infectious

- if they are being given effective therapy,
- if they have three consecutive negative sputum smear results,
- if they have a favorable clinical response to therapy.

B. Purpose and Interpretation of Staff TB Skin Testing:

1. What is a Tuberculin or PPD Skin Test? The tuberculin skin test is used for finding out whether a person is infected with the TB germ. It does not tell whether a person has TB disease. For the skin test, a small amount of fluid called tuberculin is injected under the skin in the lower part of the arm. Two or three days later, a health care worker looks for a reaction on the arm.
2. What does a positive reaction mean? A positive reaction to the tuberculin test usually means that the person has been infected with the TB germ. It does not necessarily mean that the person has TB disease. Other tests, such as a chest x-ray and a phlegm sample, are needed to see whether the person has TB disease. People who have a positive reaction to the skin test but who do not have TB disease cannot spread the germs to others. They may be given a drug to prevent them from developing TB disease.

C. Procedures for Staff Mantoux Skin Testing:

1. Medical Screening

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

- a. Effective February 1, 1995, all new staff are required to participate in our Pre-employment screening process. Staff are required to show proof of a negative PPD Skin test at the time of Orientation. This record will be put in the staff's confidential medical record.

Direct service staff shall include any staff who may have contact with client population. All other non-direct service staff will be excluded from yearly tests. Non-direct service staff shall include all personnel who do not have contact with client population, i.e. Administrative Staff, Facilities and Maintenance, Billing, MIS/IT, Human Resources, Accounting, Medical Records and Accounts Payable.
- c. Staff will be tested after a TB exposure; that is, if exposed to a potentially infectious TB patient for whom these infection control procedures have not been taken. This will not be required when an staff's last skin test was within three (3) months. If negative, the skin test shall be repeated twelve (12) weeks after exposure.
- d. Staff with documented positive skin test and documented adequate treatment for disease or preventive therapy for infection are exempt from skin testing unless symptoms develop.

2. Positive Mantoux Skin Tests

Staff with a positive skin test or staff with a history of positive skin tests who are now exhibiting symptoms of TB will be provided with further clinical evaluation. Staff will be required to undergo further testing, such as a chest x-ray and a sampling of phlegm by the Health Department. If it is believed that TB exposure occurred while performing Center duties, the case will be referred to Workers Compensation. During the pre-employment process staff will be required to undergo further testing and treatment at their own expense.

When an staff is found to have current pulmonary or laryngeal TB, they shall be excluded from work until adequate treatment is instituted, their cough is resolved, and a physician certifies that the person is no longer infectious.

This removal requirement does not included staff infected with TB at sites other than lung or larynx who are otherwise healthy and undergoing preventive therapy.

Scope

This policy applies to all KRCC assets and all KRCC staff.

Background

To comply with state and federal regulations and industry accounting, KRCC must maintain accurate assets records.

Each staff is responsible for any and all KRCC assets under their control and/or assigned for their use, i.e., desk, chairs, tools, computer, etc. This responsibility includes, but is not limited to:

- Basic safeguarding and physical security;
- Maintaining assets in good working condition;

ASSET DEFINITIONS

KENTUCKY RIVER COMMUNITY CARE PERSONNEL POLICIES

A capital moveable asset is defined as personal property consisting of tangible personal property, such as furniture, fixtures, equipment and machinery, vehicles, and intangible personal property (like software), with a unit cost or market value of $500 or more and having a probable useful life of at least two years. These assets must be tracked in the KRCC inventory system.

2. Capital Non-moveable Assets:

A capital non-moveable asset is defined as real property consisting of land, land improvements, buildings, assets under construction, infrastructure, and building equipment with a unit cost or market value of $500 or more. These assets must be tracked in the KRCC inventory system.

3. Restricted Assets:

A restricted asset is defined as an asset whose use and disposition is restricted by a granting agency and/or donor. These assets acquired, fabricated or government furnished under a grant or contract must comply with all contractual obligations set forth by the sponsor/grantor.

These assets must be tracked in the KRCC inventory system.

4. Non-capital Assets:

A non-capital asset is defined as an asset with a unit of cost of less than $500. KRCC may choose to track these assets in their inventory system.

5. Surplus Assets:

A surplus asset is defined as an asset that is not in use and is housed in Centralized Storage.

These assets must be tracked in the KRCC inventory system.

6. Retired Assets:

A retired asset is defined as an asset that can no longer serve its intended purpose through use of time, or accident and deemed as retired by the Asset Management Department. Upon disposition by the Asset Management Department, these assets are removed from the KRCC inventory system.

These are fabricated assets constructed over a defined development period. Because these assets are not depreciated until capitalized, such assets are generally assumed unusable until fabrication period is complete.
